4 Ways to Be an Even More Awesome Dad

If you have struggled to define fatherhood, you're not alone. All you have to do is look at the last century of television shows to know that society hasn't a clue what to do with it either.

Should you be a wise sage or the family comedian? Should you be a hands-off provider or bumble your way into everyone's business?

It doesn't take long to see that the world isn't sure what makes a good father.

Fortunately, we have a Heavenly Father who is more than ready to show us the way. Here's a few thoughts on ways fathers can strengthen and lead their children on a path that brings them closer to God.

1. Consider more than the physical needs. It can be tempting to say your job is done if food, shelter, and clothing are provided, but your children need you and not just your resources.

2. Set them up to succeed but be ready to catch them when they fail. We all want to see our children soar but it can be tempting to protect them while they learn to fly. Let them fail, but catch them as they fall. Then encourage them as they climb up and try again.

3. Remember it's what you do as well as what you say. Children are always watching. Be sure to live out the teachings you are passing down.

4. Lead with love and a servant heart. Always love first. Your children were gifted into your care by a God who serves and loves even when we mess up. Be that example for your children so they can see the hand of God at work in the world

According to statistics, the faith of the father is one of the primary influences in the faith of a child. Never forget that you have a Father who is ready to help you bring your children to Him and we are here to support you along the way.

Family Fun Feature

How to hold your own family tournament

1) Choose your time frame. Family tournaments are great for busy parents as they can be spread out over a weekend, a week, a month, or even the entire summer.

2) Choose your events. Select several events with a variety of styles and durations. A blend of athletic, mental, silly, and pure luck mean everyone has a chance.

Need ideas?

- Race around the house
- Whose paper airplane flies the farthest?
- Who can take off their socks the fastest without their hands
- How many words can you make out of a long movie title

Have a good time coming up with all the ideas!

Make a schedule for when the different competitions will occur.

3) Make a scoreboard and a trophy. Having a posted scoreboard and a trophy on display will keep the interest up between the games.
